Kipahulu Woman Loses Life In Small Stream

Mrs. Julia Wing Tong, a part-Chinese woman living with her husband near Kipahulu, lost her life last Sunday when she was washed over a small cataract in the Kohao stream, where she had been washing clothes. She was probably killed by being battered against the rocks in the stream bed.

At the time of the accident, the woman's husband, Wing Tong, was engaged in fishing in the stream a short distance above. His wife had called to him that she was going to cross to the other side, and he had warned her not to attempt it, as the stream was swollen from rains, and dangerous. However she did not heed him and was carried away by the strong current. She was 26 years of age and the mother of three small children.

Under Charges for Water Must Be Paid Says Wilcox

Auditor Wilcox, in his investigation of the accounts of the Wailuku waterworks has discovered that a large number of consumers have, for some unexplained reason, been undercharged for various amounts, the whole aggregating probably several hundred dollars per year. These undercharges are now being computed, and bills will be made out against those who owe money to the county for this reason. Auditor Wilcox states that it is possible that these undercharges may explain in considerable measure the reason of the steady falling off in receipts of the department for the past several years.

Welch Wins Case For Self Against Lawyers

Welch, the poi man, acted as his own attorney in defending himself on the charge of committing an assault and battery on one Lee Ping, was acquitted by the jury which heard the case yesterday morning. Besides County Attorney Bevin, Enos Vincent helped to prosecute the case on behalf of Lee Ping. Welch proved that the trouble was caused by the Chinaman's coming to his house at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning, and making a disturbance about the weight of certain taro he had sold to Welch. Welch ordered him off the premises, and when he refused to go, assisted him forcibly. On the jury were—Frank Burns, Sam Alo, Wm. Ayres, Geo. Stephenson, A. H. Oana, W. E. Bal, Jr., Wm. Scholtz, John Venhuizen, T. W. Burlem, B. H. Thomas, and C. E. S. Burns.

Netting upwards of $500, the bazaar of the Woman's Guild, of the Church of the Good Shepherd, held last Saturday night at the Wailuku Gymnasium, was one of the most successful, as well as enjoyable affairs of the kind ever held on Maui. Ratray's two vocal solos, and Mr. C. D. Lufkin's cornet selection were much appreciated. The evening's gaieties ended with a greatly enjoyed dance.

Want Regiment Located on Maui

Local Guardsmen Enthusiastic Over Prospects For Future—Lindsay Is Made Major of New Battalion.

Although Maui now has five infantry companies of the National Guard, efforts are being made to organize a sixth company with a view to relieving some of the old companies of their surplus strength. D. C. Lindsay, who has been appointed major of the newly created Third Separate Battalion, hopes that a sixth company may be permitted for Maui, in which case Maui may become regimental headquarters for the new third infantry regiment of the national guard, to which all of the Maui companies are attached.

Following his return to Honolulu last week, Adjutant General Sam Johnson issued general orders in which various appointments of officers were made, those for Maui being as follows:

David C. Lindsay is appointed a major, National Guard of Hawaii, rank to begin from the date of this order, and is assigned to the command of the Third Separate Battalion, Infantry.

John J. Walsh is appointed first lieutenant, rank to begin October 22, and is attached to the Third Separate Battalion, Infantry.

Thomas Desmond Collins is appointed first lieutenant, rank to begin October 22, and is attached to the Third Separate Battalion, Infantry.

Henry Robinson, Jr., is appointed first lieutenant, rank to begin from date of this order, and is attached to the Third Separate Battalion, Infantry.

Capt. Orlando J. Whitehead, Infantry, retired is returned to active duty and is assigned to the Third Separate Battalion, Infantry.

Lunch For Officers.

Before leaving Maui last Saturday afternoon, Col. Johnson was host to the various officers of the guard on this island, at a lunch at the Maui Hotel, Wailuku. At this time various matters of general interest were discussed, and plans made for the future work. Much enthusiasm was evidenced and the outlook is bright for a most active year in guard circles on Maui.

It is understood that the new Kahului company, Company K, of which J. J. Walsh has command, is to have the old customs house building at Kahului as an armory.

New Year's Dance Announced.

At a meeting of the officers held last Monday night, it was decided to give a grand officers' ball on next New Year's eve, at the Wailuku armory. Plans are already being made for this, which promises to be one of the biggest things of the kind ever given on Maui.

Wednesday was a banner day in the Gymnasium as far as attendance is concerned; ninety-one people used the Gymnasium in the different classes that were held that day.

A number of people have requested to join the adult dancing class which meets Friday evening, without joining the Gymnasium. It was thought at first that it would not be possible to grant these requests because of the extremely low price that was charged for dancing lessons. Arrangements have been made, however, to allow persons to join this class upon the payment of a fee of $1.50 per month which will entitle them to dancing lessons only. A ticket will be issued to all those who want to join the class in this way, this ticket to be non-transferable.

Much interest is being taken in the volleyball games which are to be played between the Business Men's class and the Alexander House Gymnasium Club. Both organizations have had teams hard at work practicing for the first game on Wednesday evening. The second game will be played Thursday evening. No date has been set for the final series of games. Volleyball is a very interesting game to watch and all the friends of the Settlement are invited to be present to see these games on Wednesday and Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Charles Villiers entertained very pleasantly on Tuesday evening at the Wailuku parsonage, their guests being a group of young men of the community.

Pineapple Men Will Try to Improve Fruit

Deterioration of Smooth Cayenne Calls For Drastic Action.—Experts Will Try For New Variety.

HONOLULU, October 27. — The smooth cayenne pineapple that has made Hawaii famous, just as a certain brew of beer is advertised to have made Milwaukee famous, is deteriorating. This year it was smaller than last and next year it is expected to be still smaller. Thus the canning companies face great losses.

The canners, however, see a way out. Experts have been engaged and are now at work on cross-breeding and the result of their efforts is expected to be a pineapple that is better than the smooth cayenne ever was.

Failure to rotate crops with consequent soil deterioration is given as the reason for the smooth cayenne's reduced size. With this in view the experts are working on a plan which includes not only planting of a new variety but a rotation of crops and fertilization to such an extent that the new pineapple may be produced in exactly the quantities desired at the planting.

Harold L. Lyon, pathologist of the experiment station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, is directing the experiments for the canners. With the staff under him he is endeavoring to obtain a cross between the smooth cayenne and the old native Hawaiian pineapple. The latter fruit is small and consequently not suitable for canning, but is much sweeter than the cayenne.

It is hoped by the cross to obtain a pineapple as large as the cayenne formerly was and as sweet as the old Hawaiian pineapples. This will mean thousands of dollars annually to the canners and remove the peril of losses now faced by deterioration of the cayenne.

Announcement of the experiments was made yesterday by Fred W. Macfarlane, president of Libby, McNeill & Libby of Honolulu. He said the canners had obtained the services of Mr. Lyon for a consideration to the planters' association and that Mr. Lyon and his staff were giving part of their time to production of the new species of pineapple.

"So, as the smooth cayenne has made Hawaii famous," Mr. Macfarlane said, "we hope with the new pineapple to make her still more famous."

CORRESPONDENCE.

MORE SUNDAY MOVIE ARGUMENTS.

Editor Maui News.—The Hana Correspondent of the Weekly Times, says that they surely go on record favoring the action of the County Supervisors, as opposed to motion pictures for money on Sunday.

I am a little skeptical on that point, and as our County fathers with their profound wisdom will not let us try, I propose to put it to the test in another way.

Let us run a free show on some Sunday in Hana, if the majority of those who attend do not favor motion pictures for money on Sundays, I will pay all expenses. Contrarywise the Hana correspondent pays.

Any reputable citizens of Hana can conduct the poll as far as I am concerned.

Now regarding the matter of "dollars and cents with the show men," "six evenings to do business," "making the show men a privilege class" and other nonsense.

As a class we show men are not fond of work, either week days or Sundays, but it takes money to rent films, pay labor, and other incidentals, in connection with the show business, and when there is a demand for anything to be done on Sundays it has to be done, and some one has to do the work, and those who work usually reap the benefit of their labor. Thus we see coffee shops, fruit stands, cigar stores, autos, plantations and several other business too numerous to mention running on Sundays, when they have all the other six days to do so, and the voters have not made a privileged class out of any of them.

No unbiased person will say that a good picture show on Sunday does any harm, if it did on Sunday what must it do the balance of the week. On the contrary in the United States there are more than fifty thousand picture houses, more than half of which are operated on Sunday, and where they do so statistics show, that crime and drunkenness has decreased on that day. It would have the same effect on Maui.

The people of Hawaii and Oahu have had their Sunday shows for some time, yet no one has petitioned that they be closed, on the contrary Sunday is the only day that the real working people have a chance for recreation, that is why we have base ball and other games on that day, that is why the Sunday show is so popular where it is allowed, and we will have it on Maui as sure as day follows night, when our supervisors are guided by a desire to do what the people want and not listen to a few naysayers who have every thing that they desire on Sunday, but who deny a common laborer his Sunday evening amusement.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE FREELAND.

Bids For Sanitarium Buildings All Rejected

All tenders for the construction of the new dining room and kitchen building, for the Kula sanitarium, were thrown out by the Loan Fund Board at its meeting last Saturday. New tenders are to be called for as soon as modifications can be made in the plans.

There were three bids submitted—J. A. Aheong, $5778; William Cullen, $7225; and Howell & Lada, $1783.50. The commissioners were of the opinion that the lowest of these tenders was a larger proportion of the $10,000 available for the sanitarium improvements than they would be warranted in spending on the buildings in question. The appropriation must also be made to cover a refrigeration plant, and other improvements. It is expected that a meeting will be held this evening, at which it will probably be decided what part of the work is to be pared down, after which new bids will be called for.

Sleepy Driver Overtakes Car—Boy Painfully Hurt

Because he went to sleep at the wheel, the automobile being driven by John Baker, Jr. found its way into the ditch, just outside of Lahaina, last Sunday night, and capsized. Baker's nap was disturbed, but otherwise he suffered no ill effects. Joaquin Do Rego, a 15 year old Wailuku boy who was in the machine at the time, sustained some nasty cuts on the head, and when taken to the Malulani Hospital was at first thought to be seriously hurt. However his injuries proved not to be dangerous, and he will be out of the Hospital in a day or two.

Baker was starting back to Wailuku after taking a passenger to Lahaina, when the accident occurred. He admitted to Auto Inspector Goodness that he had gone to sleep. The Ford car which he was driving, belonged to Do Rego & Edwards.

Maui Theaters

Some very good five reel feature were played at the various Maui Theaters this week. The Valley Isle Theater had a packed house last Saturday night when "The Adventures of Kathlyn" and "The Diamond from the Sky" two most thrilling serial pictures were played. On Monday night "The House of the Lost Court," a five reel Paramount with Clara Kimball Young in leading role, was shown at the Valley Isle and at the same place on Wednesday night "The Lily of the Poverty Flat," a World Film in five parts featuring Alice Joyce, was shown to a good house. The rain interfered with the attendance last evening but many are expected to turn out to see the "The Adventures of Kathlyn" with four other good reels tonight.

"The Diamond from the Sky" with five other most attractive pictures will be the program for tomorrow night. The theaters have become places of high class amusement where all classes can go bringing their families along to spend two or three hours of most wholesome amusement, free from the wiles and brawls of low resorts, and this is the highest and greatest good moving picture houses are doing to the community everywhere.

Next Monday night, "The Exploits of Elaine" and "Fanchon the Critic," featuring the little goddess of the movies, our Mary Pickford, will be shown. Mary's sister, Lottie, is leading lady in "The Diamond from the Sky," and the audience can judge of the
